Numb 2048

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday July 2. to Monday July 6. 1685.

Whitehall, July 4.

IN our last you had an account that the Rebels were at Shepton Mallet; From thence they went to Wells, where they robbed and defaced the Cathedral Church Drinking their Villanous Healths at the Altar, plundered the Town, raviſhed the Women and committed all manner of Outrages. From Wells they marched to Glaſſenbury; and came on Thurſday to Bridgwater.

The Earl of Feverſham marched on Thurſday laſt with His Majeſties Forces from Frome to Shepton-Mallet, and on Friday to Somerton to obſerve the Rebels, who ſeem as if they would defend themſelves in Bridgwater. His Lordſhip has forbid all perſons to give them any ſuccor or aſſiſtance upon pain of being treated as Rebels.

Yeſterday His Majeſty went to ſee the three Scotch Regiments which were drawn up on Black-Heath; and was extreamly pleaſed with them, and gave them great Commendations; And this morning they paſſed through London in their march to the Weſt.

Edinburgh, July 1. Yeſterday being the day appointed for the execution of the late Earl of Argyle, he was accordingly carryed to the Croſs near unto which he was Beheaded upon a Scaffold erected for that purpoſe; His Head is ordered to be affixed upon the Tolbooth, and his Body is laid in St. Magdalens Chapel in the Cowgate. This Execution was in purſuance of his former Conviction and Sentence, there having been no need of forming a Proceſs againſt him for his late Rebellion. He made no Speech upon the Scaffold, but delivered a Canting Paper to the Dean of Edinburgh (who together with Mr. Charters were with him there) to be given to my Lord Chancellor, declaring that he had neither directly nor indirectly left any other Speech or Paper upon this occaſion. Some hours after his Execution, we had the certain news of the taking of Sir John Cockran and his Son John (who was reported to have been killed the day that Rumbold and Ayloffe were taken) with a third perſon, whoſe name is not known, but it's ſaid he is a Stranger; They were taken at a place called Cocheran at the Houſe of an Unkle of Sir Johns, where they had hid themſelves; And are expected here this night or to morrow morning. We omitted in our laſt to tell you that ..... Stuart the younger of Cultneſs, (who was in the late Rebellion) is alſo taken. As well the Highlanders as ſeveral Parties of His Majeſties ſtanding Forces are in diligent ſearch of the reſt of the Rebels who lurk up and down the Country in holes. Ayloffe is ſtill at Glaſcow in a way of recovery, and it's expected he will be ſhortly brought hither.

Warſaw, May 25. This week the Senate met, as is uſual after the breaking up of the Dyet, where it was among other things propoſed to ſend a Solemn Embaſſy to the Czars of Moſcovy; but after ſome debate it was reſolved to ſtay till the Envoy, that is ſent thither is come back, and has given an account of the diſpoſition that Court is in to main the Peace with this Crown. The King has appointed the General Rendezvous of the Army to be on the 25th of the next month near Leopol; The Forces of Poland will be 30000 men; and thoſe of Lithuania 10000 beſides the Coſſacks and the Auxiliary Troops of Brandenburgh and Courland. We have advice that the Tartars have conducted a great Convoy of Proviſions and Ammunition to Caminiec; And that on the other ſide the Coſſacks have drawn a great Party of that Gariſon into an Ambuſh, and cut them all in pieces. The Imperial Envoy had ſome days ago Audience of the King, to whom he gave an account of the ſtate of the Emperors Troops, and how they will be employed this Campagne; They amount we are told to ſeventy thouſand men beſides the National Troops of Hungary and Croatia, and thoſe that may be drawn out of ſeveral Gariſons. The Popes Nuntio hath aſſured the King that the Pope will ſend him a conſiderable ſupply of money for the Service of this Campagne. The Chevalier de Lubomirski, who commanded the laſt Summer a Regiment of Horſe in the Emperors Service is lately dead here. The King and Queen are gone to Villanoua, from whence the King will go the beginning of the next month to Leopol.

Naples, June 14. The Duke of Turſis's Squadron of Galleys is arrived in this Port, and will in few days be ready to Sail again with thoſe of this Kingdom, Sicily and Sardinia, in all to the number of 19, towards the Levant.

Venice, June 23. We are told from Dalmatia, that the Baſſa of Boſſina who was to have marched with the Troops under his Command to Hungary, hath now received orders from the Grand Signior to remain on the Frontiers, to ſecure that Country againſt the Incurſions of the Morlaques. By a Veſſel arrived from Corfu we have advice, that the Auxiliary Galleys were gone from thence towards Preveſa to joyn the Fleet commanded by Captain General Moroſini. That Signior Molino was with his Squadron at Thine; And Signior Delfino with that under his Command at Cerigo, having both Orders to joyn the Fleet. It is confirmed that the Turkiſh Fleet is at Sea, conſiſting in 60 Galleys and 20 Men of War; and that the Baſſa who commands them has Orders to fight the Fleet of this State.

Vienna, June 20. The Imperial Army commanded by the Duke of Lorrain is encamped near Gran; We are told it conſiſts at preſent of 30000 men, and that it will be very ſuddenly reinforced with 15000 more of ſeveral Princes of the Empire, which are now on their march. The Duke of Lorrain having ſince his arrival at the Army, held a Council of War; it was reſolved in the firſt place to attack Novigrad, to cut off by that means the communication between Buda and Newheuſel; And afterwards to Beſiege Newheuſel. Colonel Heuſler has been with 1000 Horſe as far as Peſt. He met a Party of 500 Turkiſh Horſe, who upon ſight of him retired in great haſte and diſorder. The Turks have repaired the Fortifications of Buda, which were ruined during the late Seige; and the Viſier who now